Legislature Takes a Recess Until Monday.

COMPROMISE ON TONNAGE

Pending Bills Dismissed and New One Being Drawn—Medical Bill Discussed in House—Session In Both Branches.

Both houses of the General Assembly adjourned over yesterday, until Monday at noon, in order for the members to attend the launching of the West Virginia at Newport News today.

In the House there were two matters of importance up. The first was in relation to the tax on mineral products, and all the pending propositions were dismissed, it having been agreed between the opposing sides to await the reporting of a substitute in the nature of a compromise, which is being prepared by Messrs. Boaz, Folkes and Angell, a subcommittee from the Committee on Finance. One substitute, which will be ready by Monday, will likely provide for a special assessment of mineral lands by the commissioners of the revenue for the various counties, which assessment shall be subject to revision by the Corporation Commission.

The parties aggrieved by the assessment have the right of appeal to the Circuit Court. It is believed that such a substitute will prevail in both branches. The other matter of interest in the House was the Senate bill requiring all persons holding themselves out as healers to stand the regular State medical examination. Mr. Bland, of Portsmouth, offered an amendment to exempt Christian Scientists from the operations of the bill, and a number of speeches were made in its favor. The body adjourned without taking any action on the bill.

In the Senate, Mr. Wickham reported the bill appropriating $200,000 to the Jamestown Exposition, and several other appropriation bills. The corporation bill carrying into effect the corresponding section of the new Constitution was reported from the Roads Committee, and the Lynchburg work bill was passed under suspension of the rules.

The Senate also passed the Halsey bill, amending the Mathews dog laws so as to protect valuable dogs in cities from thieves and miscreants. Another bill passed was that offered by Mr. Anderson, to provide for the designation of city judges to sit for one another in case of inability from sickness or otherwise.

The Senate. There were twenty-nine Senators present when President Nelson called the session to order at noon yesterday. The proceedings were opened with prayer.

Mr. Wickham, calling Mr. Barkdale to the chair, presented the report of the Committee on Finance. The committee reported favorably the Jamestown Exposition bill, carrying an appropriation of $200,000; the Senate bill for a crop pest commission, appropriating $4,000; the Senate bill appropriating $5,000 to the Virginia Normal school; and the Senate bill appropriating $75,000 to the State Female Normal School, the firemen's relief bill, and the bill to pension disabled firemen.

The committee reported adversely on the bill appropriating $100,000 to the Virginia Polytechnic Institute, and on a bill appropriating $75,000 to the State Female Normal School, the firemen's relief bill, and the bill to pension disabled firemen.

The Senate at 1:15 P. M. adjourned until Monday at noon.

The House was called to order at noon by Speaker Ryan and there was no prayer.

Mr. Stearnes offered a resolution providing for adjournment until noon on Monday and the resolution was adopted by the House.

The object of the resolution was to allow members to attend the launching of the West Virginia at Newport News today.

The resolution was adopted by Mr. Green and adopted—yeas, 32; nays, 0.

Mr. Churchman moved to reconsider the vote by which the House had voted on a bill to pension disabled firemen.

Mr. Stearnes laid before the House a telegram from Mr. W. W. Post of Newport News, inviting the House to attend the launching and Messrs. Whitehead, Mort and Featherston opposed the motion.

A vote of 22 to 47 the House refused to reconsider, so the recess was ordered.

THE FOLLOWING BILLS WERE OFFERED AND REFERRED:

By Mr. Davis: To amend section 2922 of the Code in relation to State attachments against moving his effects from leased property.

At the special order, which was the further consideration of the tonnage tax bill, came up at 12:30 P. M. THE NEXT SPECIAL ORDER WAS THE CONSIDERATION OF THE SENATE BILLS RELATING TO THE CODE IN RELATION TO THE OTHER COMPANION MEASURES, WHICH WERE PASSED WITHOUT AMENDMENT OR DEBATE.

WHERE THE FIGHT CAME. But when No. 148, which is the other companion measure, came up, a hot contest began. Mr. Duke, of Albemarle, advocated the Bland amendment, allowing Christian Scientists to practice their profession as under the present law.

Mr. Duke contended that the advocates of the bill were inconsistent in their position. He said that the Kellam Cancer Hospital, the Keeley Institute and the osteopaths had at first been under the ban, but that now they had been let out, and only the BAIL COMMISSIONER Bill Reported by Courts of Justice Committee With Amendments.

The Senate Committee for Courts of Justice held two sessions yesterday afternoon, lasting from a few minutes of 1 o'clock until nearly 6. An open session was had, at which two bills were reported. Afterwards an executive session was held, at which the resolution of the Senate referring to the committee the action of the House in the Campbell case was taken.

At the open session the House bill for the appointment of a bail commissioner was taken up. The Senate had suggested an amendment to the House bill, making the clerk of the court the bail commissioner, but a subcommittee to whom the matter was referred reported to the full committee that the House bill designating a commissioner in chancery as bail commissioner be accepted instead. The commissioner is to be designated by the court. His fees are to be double the fees now allowed a justice of the peace in Commonwealth cases. The bill will be taken up to-morrow.

A supplementary bill, amending the Code so as to give the bail commissioner the necessary powers, was also reported. The committee decided adversely to the Harman bill, proposing to designate a justice of the peace as bail commissioner in all cases up to $500, and with power to grant bail and hold court in other portions of the county than at the county seat. Such an officer, in the opinion of the committee, would be a traveling court, with powers equal to the present county court. The patron of the bill recognized the defects and acquiesced in the committee's action.

Miss Pearl Smith left to-day to attend the launching at Newport. Eight candidates were initiated Thursday at the meeting of Henrico Council, No. 733, Royal Arcanum. After business the members indulged in a social and smoker.

FIREMEN'S APPROPRIATION State Association Asks for Protection for Families.

The Virginia State Firemen's Association is making a strong fight for appropriation of $100,000 for the protection of firemen injured or disabled while attending to their duties.

Along this line has been done for seven years by Captain J. H. Redwood, of this city, chairman of the Legislative Committee.

Most of the men in the association are volunteers, who get nothing for their services, and are called upon to risk life and limb in saving other people's lives and property. They think the small appropriation given them for the protection of themselves and families.

You will be interested and amused by the caustic pictures of society in New York, where the earl lost his first heiress; Boston, where he encountered a spirit rival; Washington, where he met some very queer fish; Chicago, where society hunted him and where he fell genuinely in love with the wrong girl.
